

The Queens 90th Birthday Celebration at Scarborough PRS

Thursday 21st April was a very busy day for pupils and staff from Scarborough's Pupil Referral Unit as they celebrated the Queen's 90th Birthday.

The day began with an assembly detailing the history of the Queen and her journey to the throne before a quiz which saw pupils test their knowledge of our reigning monarch. They then went on to release nine doves, one for each decade of the Queens 90 years. Next, pupils chose from a variety of activities to celebrate Her Majesty's birthday. These included designing and making birthday cards, dressing the corridors in bunting, writing letters of congratulations and preparing an afternoon tea 'fit for the Queen'!

After break, pupils marked the Queens 64 years on the throne by taking part in a 1952 style PE lesson which consisted of drill, marching and fitness exercises. They certainly worked up an appetite and were more than ready for the wonderful buffet of sandwiches, sausage rolls, home-made quiches, cakes and shortbread which awaited them. As the pupils and staff chatted about the day a musical montage was playing – 'As the red, red robin goes bob, bob, bobbing along' (written 90 years ago), 'When I'm 64' (number of years on the throne), 'Rule Britannia' and a selection from 'Queen's Greatest Hits' (for obvious reasons)! The school day ended with the pupils raising a toast to Her Majesty the Queen.
